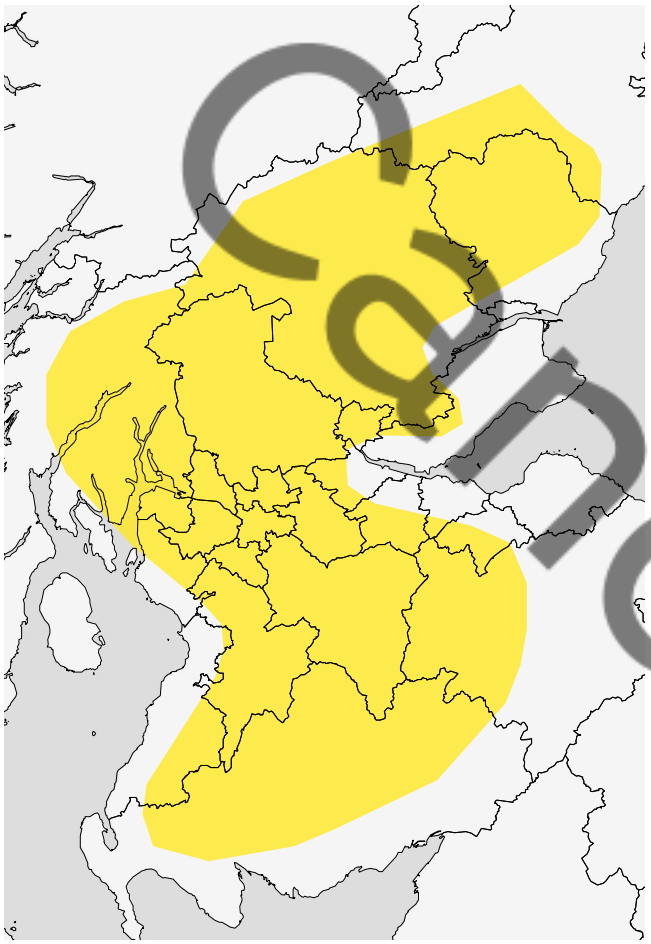
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
03:00 Tue 18 Feb 2025 and
12:00 Tue 18 Feb 2025



Cancelled

Snow and freezing rain may make for difficult driving conditions, especially over higher routes.

What to expect

- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services, especially on routes over higher ground.
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces are possible

Further details

Snow flurries will probably turn heavier for a time during Tuesday morning, leading to a covering of snow in some places. Most likely in the 0-1cm range in lowland areas, whilst 1-5cm is possible in places above 200m.

In addition, freezing rain, especially in the southern part of the region, is likely to cause icy surfaces in a few places and could make for difficult driving conditions, even on treated roads.

Freezing rain and snow is expected to ease by Tuesday afternoon, with conditions improving.

✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts

What Should I Do?

Snowy, wintry weather can cause delays and make driving conditions dangerous. Keep yourself and others safe by planning your route, giving yourself extra time for your journey. Check for road closures or delays to public transport and amend plans if necessary.

If driving, make sure you have some essentials in your car in the event of any delays (e.g., warm clothing, food, water, a blanket, a torch, ice scraper/de icer, a warning triangle, high visibility vest and an in-car phone charger).

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

Keep yourself and your family safe when it is icy. Plan to leave the house at least five minutes earlier than normal. Not needing to rush, reduces your risk of accidents, slips, and falls.

If you need to make a journey on foot, try to use pavements along main roads which are likely to be less slippery. Similarly, if cycling, try and stick to main roads which are more likely to have been treated.

Reason for cancellation

Rain, freezing rain and snow have now largely died out with no further impacts expected
